ImageFIRST Now an Organizational Sponsor of The Beryl Institute

King of Prussia, PA – February 16, 2016 – ImageFIRST, a leading healthcare laundry services provider, announced that they are now an organizational sponsor of The Beryl Institute. As an organizational sponsor, ImageFIRST will be given opportunities to help healthcare organizations determine how they can improve the experiences that patients have at a healthcare facilities.

The Beryl Institute is a global organization that is committed to helping healthcare facilities and professionals improve the patient experience through collaboration and shared knowledge. The Institute is comprised of healthcare leaders who share insights, perspectives, and backgrounds on improving patient experience. Through this collaboration, they were even able to come up with their own unique definition of the patient experience as seen on their website.

One of the biggest reasons that ImageFIRST chose to partner with The Beryl Institute this year is because, like them, the Institute puts the patient's experience first. The Institute works to provide healthcare organizations with the knowledge and tools that they need to help improve patient experience. To help enhance a patient's experience, ImageFIRST gives healthcare facilities the opportunity to take advantage of their exclusive and innovative Comfort Care Line. Their Comfort Care products are exceptionally soft, available in various style, and can be used at different types of medical facilities.

ImageFIRST is slated to attend The Beryl Institute's Patient Experience Conference on April 13-15. This conference is the biggest independent vendor/non-provider hosted event that brings healthcare professionals from all over the globe together to learn how they can improve the patient experience. Those who are interested in attending should come prepared to build relationships and network.
