

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

ImageFIRST Corporate Office Volunteered at MANNA

King of Prussia, PA – June 23, 2017 – ImageFIRST Healthcare Laundry Specialists' Corporate office took the day to volunteer at MANNA in Philadelphia, PA. Associates of ImageFIRST traveled from King of Prussia to downtown Philadelphia and spent half of the day working with other volunteers as part of the company's quarterly community giving events.

MANNA is a nonprofit organization that provides over 15,000 medically-appropriate, balanced meals daily prepared by volunteers to patients battling life-threatening illnesses. Thanks to MANNA, Philadelphia locals struggling with cancer, renal disease, HIV/AIDS or other serious illnesses can have a full three meals packed with nutrients to heal each day, seven days a week. To learn more about MANNA, prospective volunteers are encouraged to visit their website at www.mannapa.org.

Once they arrived on site, the ImageFIRST associates were briefed on their tasks for the day and given brief cooking lessons. One of the chefs teaching them was featured on a famous cooking competition television show. The associates then helped MANNA to ready the meals for the day by chopping approximately 500 pounds of onions and 300 pounds of broccoli, as well as assembling more than 200 sandwiches.

“Associates were thrilled to be taught by a celebrity,” reflected Magali Tranié, ImageFIRST’s director of marketing. “Our community giving events invariably also become team building as we end up carpooling and working together,” she stated.

ImageFIRST provides linen management services including rental and laundering of patient gowns, scrubs, bed and bath linens and more across the continental United States and Puerto Rico. As part of their company’s Purpose, ImageFIRST locations participate in quarterly community giving activities.
